Atlantic Aviators Aviation Scholarship Official Application

Women in Aviation International, is a non-profit organization dedicated to the encouragement and advancement of women (and men) in all aviation career fields and interests. With a membership of 7,000 +, Women in Aviation offers educational outreach programs to educators, aviation industry members and young people, both nationally and internationally. Further information for Women in Aviation International and membership applications can be found at: www.wai.org.

Criteria:

The Atlantic Aviators Chapter of Women in Aviation, International would like to encourage women and men in the Southeastern Massachusetts area to develop careers in aviation, science, technology, engineering, and/or mathematics. To provide resources for this, the chapter is offering two (2) scholarships valued at $1000 each to any deserving high school seniors, college freshman or sophomores who have demonstrated an aptitude for and have interest in pursuing, or are currently pursuing an aviation or technology related degree at an accredited college or university, flight training, type ratings, or other aviation-related studies. Applicants are asked to submit a 250-word essay describing their goals, achievements thus far, and financial need for selection committee review. Please note that the applicant's WAI membership status will not be used as criteria in the Atlantic Aviators Scholarship selection process. For additional requirements, please see below.
